PLEASANT FLAT

We like the sunshine much better than we did the snow, but it takes all kinds of weather to make up the year.

Rev. Katchell filled his wife's appointment at the Tharp school house Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Miss Pearl Moody spent the day last Sunday with Misses Opal and Essie Tharp.

Gayland Adams spent the week end at his uncle's, Joe Lang's. Clarence Lang accompanied him home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Imhoff, W. R. Worth and wife spent Tuesday at Mrs. Ed Tharp's. These parties accompanied by Robert Imhoff and Ralph took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Long. They seem to have an eye to business, visiting two days inside of a week. Both Mrs. Tharp and Mrs. Long had an excellent dinner, which was enjoyed by their guests.

Frank Campbell, who has been confined to his bed, is somewhat better, but far from well.

The Tharp school closed last Friday. As is the custom of the patrons a big dinner was served. This makes four dinners that have been served during the six months term of school. What district can beat it?

Miss Imhoff received a letter from W. W. Thomas, superintendent of the Springfield Public Schools, asking her to come to Springfield at her earliest convenience to talk about a position in the Springfield schools. She left Friday evening and met Mr. Thomas Saturday morning. We quote her letter in part: "I met the man on schedule time and signed up for 3 1-2 months at $100 per. Said he could not give me more until next year as they have a regular schedule according to training. Will have thirty-seven pupils. Have a supervision in drawing, one in music and one in writing; also a primary supervision, who will stay as long as I need her. Another new teacher to take one-half of the same grade and either I am to be her assistant or she to be mine. He has gone to New Jersey for a week and aims to see what we are up while he is gone and then decide which is the superior officer. I shoo am scared."

James Fullington and wife visited with Mrs. Fullington's mother, Mrs. Shackelford, Sunday.

Ralph Harris visited the home school last Monday.

Chester, Charley and Burley Thorp came home Friday and returned to Mountain Grove Sunday afternoon.
